How Gov. Wolf's Proposed 2015-16 Budget Would Impact Rep. Steve Santarsiero's District

After four years of austerity budgets that made deep cuts to public services, public schools are struggling, property taxes are rising, and Pennsylvania remains near the bottom of state rankings in job growth since 2011. Gov. Wolf has proposed a budget that reinvests in our future by restoring funding for education from pre-K to college and delivering property tax relief to homeowners.

School Districts in Rep. Steve Santarsiero's Legislative District Would Receive

- $2 million in new funding
- 92 new Pre-K slots
- $861,402 in savings from standardized payments to cyber charters

Meanwhile, Homeowners Would Receive Property Tax Relief

- The typical homeowner in the district will see a property tax reduction of $1,113
- That's a reduction of 26%

A Drilling Tax Would Raise Millions in New Revenue for Schools and Other Needs

- $5.3 million for the district
- $1.08 billion statewide

Gov. Wolf's Proposed Minimum Wage Increase Would Raise the Wages of

- 4,698 workers in the district
- That's 16% of district workers

Colleges and Universities With Campuses in the District Would Also Receive New Funding

- $1 million in new funding for Bucks County Community College

The Budget and Leveraged Federal Funds Would Also Support Investments in Human Services in the District¹

- Human services funding increase of $31,618²
- 568 individuals newly eligible under Medicaid
- 97 more children will receive health coverage under CHIP
- Increased funding for mental health services of $549,302

Gov. Wolf has also proposed that residents of Rep. Steve Santarsiero's district subject to the Philadelphia wage tax will receive a portion of $251 million in tax relief
